

Pet Care Products Contract Manufacturing

PHYTOLAB is the one-stop-shop for all your custom manufacturing and product development. Whether you are building a new brand or looking to help your current line reach its full potential, we have the experience and expertise to propel your business forward.

PHYTOLAB knows that great products require the highest attention to detail. We strive to create perfection for your brands. Our team can help you with the initial consultation, brand development, creation of formulations, and complete production of the final product with labeling and thorough quality checks. If you are looking to bring a pet care product to market or continue the production of your current brand, PHYTOLAB is the perfect partner to facilitate all your needs. Full turnkey services are available at PHYTOLAB for all categories of products. We make it simple and easy to develop with us, start to finish.

PHYTOLAB

Creating and sustaining a new brand or holding an existing one to the highest standards starts with precise work in the lab. The team at PHYTOLAB combines the latest technological advancements, with meticulous attention to detail to guarantee the highest quality products. Regular batch testing also ensures that every bottle, tube, or jar produced is as perfect as the first.

PHYTOLAB operates various manufacturing facilities around the world with access to the best ingredients, a high-quality workforce, and quick transportation pathways to anywhere in North America or around the world.

Exceptional quality is the foundation of our company and the driving force behind all decisions. We are proud to have developed some of the bestselling products worldwide, many featured on Amazon and in large online and retail chains. Our goal is to create unique, safe, and eco-friendly products.

Developing a great pet care product is a labor-intensive process that takes time, resources, and expertise. This is why most contract manufacturers have high minimum quantities, making it prohibitive for many brands that are just getting started. At PHYTO LAB we are proud to serve companies and brands of all sizes.
